Relationship and Sex Education Policy (including PSHE and Health Education).

1. Introduction

At Hadley Wood Primary School, we understand that pupils must be provided with an education that prepares them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life. As a maintained primary school, from 2020, we legally must provide relationship and health education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017. As we already deliver a comprehensive PSHE program; we have reviewed and adjusted it to meet the Department of Education (Def.) expectations (see PSHE Curriculum Overview and Appendix C for full details) and commenced the delivery of it from September 2020.

Our school is committed to serving its community and surrounding areas. We recognise the multicultural, multi faith and ever-changing nature of the United Kingdom, and therefore those we serve. We also understand the vital role we have in ensuring that groups or individuals within the school are not subjected to intimidation or radicalisation by those wishing to unduly, or illegally, influence them. At our school we embrace the British Values of: Democracy, The rule of law, Individual liberty, Mutual respect and Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs.

Our school considers Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) to be an integral part of the PSHE Education, with elements also contained in the science curriculum. We aim to offer pupils a carefully planned curriculum covering: human development, relationships, sexuality and family life all within a safe, comfortable atmosphere. The programme is set within a moral framework and matched to the pupils' level of maturity. This policy reflects the requirements outlined in the Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education statutory guidance, published by the DfE in February 2019. <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/relationships-education-relationships-and-sex-education-rse-and-health-education>

This policy also takes into account the Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education published in July 2025, which becomes statutory in September 2026

We want our children to learn to understand and respect our common humanity, diversity and differences so that they can go on to form the effective, fulfilling relationships that are an essential part of life and learning.

2. Definition of key terminology:

Relationships Education focusses on giving pupils the knowledge they need to make informed decisions about their wellbeing, health and relationships, and to build their self-efficacy.

Health Education focusses on equipping pupils with the knowledge they need to make good decisions about their own health and wellbeing.

Personal, Social, Health and Economic education (PSHE) are an important and necessary part of all pupils' education. Through a planned programme of learning, we aim to equip our pupils with the knowledge, understanding and skills that they need in order to manage their lives both now and in the future. As part of a whole school approach, we aim to develop the attributes our pupils need to thrive as individuals, as part of a family and as a confident member of the wider community.

Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) RSE is part of lifelong learning about the emotional, social and physical aspects of growing up, relationships, sex, human sexuality and sexual health. RSE, within PSHE, aims to give children and young people essential skills for building positive, enjoyable, respectful and non-exploitive relationships and the skills to stay safe both on and offline. It enables pupils to explore their own and other's attitudes and values and builds their self-esteem and confidence to view their own sexuality positively. RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity, and we understand our responsibility to deliver a high-quality, age-appropriate and evidence-based relationships, sex and health curriculum for all our pupils. This policy sets out the framework for our relationships, sex and health curriculum, providing clarity on how it is informed, organised and delivered.

3. Right to withdraw

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their child from relationship education; however, they do have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory/non-science components of sex education within PSHE.

If a parent wishes their child to be withdrawn from the non-statutory/non-science sex education elements of RSE, they should discuss this with the Headteacher, and make it clear which aspects of the programme they do not wish their child to participate in.

Parents should be aware that schools are legally required to provide a broad, balanced curriculum. Sex education topics can arise incidentally and overlap with relationships education lessons and it is not possible to withdraw pupils from these relatively limited and often unplanned discussions.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing and addressed to the Headteacher using the parent form found in Appendix B. A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The Headteacher will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from these lessons.

4. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – members of the senior leadership team, pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance
2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE and PSHE lessons via our School Council representatives
4. Parent/stakeholder consultation – the policy was shared with all parents, and any interested parties were invited to respond with comments
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified by the full Governing Body

5. Pupil Learning Outcomes

We want our children to develop self-awareness, positive self-esteem and confidence, enabling them to:

- Become confident, capable and caring individuals as outlined in our School Vision
- Have a sense of purpose
- Value self and others
- Make and act on informed decisions
- Have respect for other peoples' views and to celebrate the diversity in society.
- Understand the nature and importance of developing and sustaining healthy, happy relationships in whatever form these may take
- Prepare for puberty both mentally, physically and socially
- Understand the consequences of their actions and behave responsibly within relationships
- Recognise unsafe situations and be able to protect themselves and ask for help and support in both online and in reality
- Communicate effectively
- Work with others
- Respond to challenge
- Be an active partner in their own learning
- Be active citizens within the local community
- Explore issues related to living in a democratic society
- Become healthy and fulfilled individuals

6. Curriculum

We follow a programme of study developed from the You Me & PSHE scheme of work. We have combined this with elements of the Enfield PSHE scheme of work to reflect the specific needs of our pupils. Our curriculum plan is set out in our PSHE Curriculum Overview (available within the About Us – The Hadley Wood Curriculum – PSHE and RSHE section of our website) but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

The scheme of work has three core themes, the same for each key stage. Each core theme is divided up into three topic areas:

Core Theme 1: Health and Wellbeing

Topic areas:

- Healthy lifestyles
- Keeping safe
- Growing and changing

Core Theme 2: Relationships

Topic areas:

- Healthy Relationships
- Feelings and emotions
- Valuing difference

Core Theme 3: Living in the Wider World

Topic areas:

- Rights and responsibilities
- Taking care of the environment
- Money matters

Whilst PSHE is split into three separate core themes, in reality there will always be extensive overlap. PSHE education addresses both pupils' direct experience and preparation for their future. Therefore, we feel it is important to provide a spiral programme of knowledge, skills and attribute development, where prior learning is revisited, reinforced and extended in age and key stage appropriate contexts.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so pupils are fully informed and do not seek answers online.

7. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the Personal, Social, Health and Economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious education (RE).

The RSE areas of learning are taught within the context of 'family life' taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances. The RSE scheme of work overview (see Appendix A) promotes that families can include single parent families, LGBTQIA+ parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures and reflects sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

Pupils in Years 4 and 6 also receive stand-alone sex education sessions delivered by school staff. When RSE lessons are delivered there are always two members of staff present, and all planning and resources are made available to parents ahead of lessons taking place in school.

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Being safe

Sex education focuses on teaching fundamental building blocks about children's bodies and how they change including

- Puberty - Preparing boys for the changes that adolescence brings
- Puberty – Preparing girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born
- How to keep our bodies safe

Throughout the school, the correct scientific language is used for all body parts. Teachers will respond to questions from children in an age-appropriate, sensitive manner. Particularly within Key Stage 2, this will often be done through anonymous questions.

All maintained primary schools will be expected to continue teaching reproduction as part of the Science National Curriculum. This includes subject content in related areas, such as the main external body parts, the human body as it grows from birth to old age (including puberty) and reproduction in some plants and animals.

Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5	Year 6
Myself and others including managing feelings of myself and others	Biological differences between Boys & Girls	Self Esteem	Growing and Changing throughout the human lifecycle	Stereotyping including gender stereotyping	Changes that occur during puberty

All lessons taught through this curriculum, including the supporting materials are in line with Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE) and are updated following the most up to date publication of this document each September.

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendix A of this policy.

8. Curriculum Delivery

At Hadley Wood Primary School, RSE, Relationships Education and Health Education are delivered within the context of PSHE in a variety of ways including:

- Discrete weekly curriculum time: allocated lesson times for PSHE, P4C and Circle Time
- Assemblies (See Collective Act of Worship Policy)
- Teaching PSHE and Citizenship through and in other subjects/curriculum areas including:
  - English: skills in enquiry and communication, stories that illustrate aspects of personal and social development
  - Mathematics: aspects of financial capability, counting and sharing
  - Science: (including medicines), sex, health, safety and the environment
  - Design & Technology: health and safety, healthy eating and use of technology
  - Computing: communicating with others via e-mail, finding information on the internet and checking its relevance, keeping safe online, bias and how to cope with negative online experiences
  - History: reasons for and results of historical events, diversity within societies, significant people, events, ideas and experiences of people from the past
  - Geography: topical issues concerning environment, sustainable development, land use, study of pupils' own locality and places in different parts of the world
  - Art and Design: reflecting on and responding to ideas and experiences communicated through works of art, craft and design from different times and cultures
  - Music: making the most of abilities in playing or singing, issues of cultural diversity, their, value and their expression
  - Physical Education: learning about health and safety, development of personal and social skills through team and individual activities, games and sports. The children also recognise the need for rules, leadership skills and motivation
  - RE: religious and moral beliefs, values and practices that underpin and influence personal and social issues and relationships. Children reflect on family relationships, different family groups and friendship. They learn about rituals and traditions associated with birth, marriage and death and talk about the emotions involved

- PSHE education activities and school events: Sports events, RE Visits, events that take place with partnership schools and other school or class organised events, e.g. charity work, class projects.
- PSHE education includes Relationships and Sex Education which contributes significantly to a child's knowledge and understanding of his or her own body, and how it is changing and developing. RSE is the lifelong learning about physical, moral and emotional development. It is about the importance of stable, caring, loving and respectful relationships for family life. The scheme of work for RSE at Hadley Wood (Appendix A: Scheme of work outline) maps out a grid of lessons/units for each year group which progresses and returns to themes as children move through the school.
- Opportunities for KS2 pupils to be a Buddy to support other children
- Whole class and individual mindfulness/meditation lessons using resources such as Headspace
- Theme Weeks such as CREW Week (Creativity, Resilience, Engagement and Wellbeing Week)
- Pastoral Care and Guidance: Daily interaction between staff and children, either one-to-one, in groups or specific times in the Nurture Room
- National and local initiatives

PSHE is taught by class teachers in a safe and nurturing environment. In order to achieve this, ground rules for behaviour will be shared at the beginning of each PSHE lesson.

Each class will establish ground rules based on the following:

- We take turns to speak
- We use kind and positive words
- We listen to each other
- We have the right to pass
- We only use names when giving compliments or when being positive

Some children may choose to voice concerns and ask questions and others may prefer not to. A trust box is available in all classes in order to enable children to ask questions/share anxieties or concerns they may not feel confident to voice as part of a group or whole class. Pupils are empowered to write their name on the Learning Mentor's board should they wish to speak to her on an individual or small group basis.

9. Special Educational Needs

As far as is appropriate, pupils with special educational needs should follow the same PSHE education programme as all other students. Careful consideration is given concerning the level of differentiation needed, and in some cases the content or delivery will have to be adapted. Teachers and/or learning support assistants work with individual pupils where required, and if appropriate.

It is not the school's policy to withdraw pupils with special educational needs from PSHE education to catch up on other national curriculum subjects: these aspects of personal and social development are as important to all pupils as their academic achievement.

10. Equality and Diversity

At Hadley Wood Primary School, PSHE education is accessible to every pupil. Teaching will take into account the ability, age, readiness, religious and cultural backgrounds of our young people and those with English as a second language to ensure that all can fully access our PSHE education provision, in accordance with the Equality Act 2010.

Relationships Education, PSHE and RSE will be delivered to ensure quality of access for all pupils, regardless of gender, sexual orientation, race or disability, so giving equal opportunities and avoiding discrimination.

11. Harassment and bullying

Pupils come from a variety of backgrounds and all are entitled to learn in a supportive environment, free from fear. Some pupils may use terms which distinguish a person's sexual orientation in a derogatory manner as a way to harass other pupils. This is unacceptable and will be dealt with as any other form of harassment, through the school behaviour and discipline procedures.

An understanding of human difference, including sexuality, is an important aspect of RSE education and will be addressed as appropriate through the curriculum. The school will offer support to any child who needs to explore their own feelings and sexuality in a safe and nurturing space. To promote tolerance and acceptance, the school displays the 'Different Families, Same Love' posters in both key stages.

12. RSE and Safeguarding:

At Hadley Wood Primary School we believe that our pupils should be kept safe from harm through safeguarding procedures and educating every pupil about how to care for their bodies and protect themselves from physical and emotional harm. RSE lessons are part of our planned PSHE programme. These support our duty to safeguard pupils. The lessons enable pupils to:

- Know their rights to be protected and kept safe
- Understand potential dangers they could face
- Be encouraged to adopt safe and responsible practices and deal sensibly with risk
- Develop personal skills to protect themselves and others from unsafe influences and physical and emotional harm
- Know when and who to ask for help when needed

Particular issues covered include:

- Bullying, including cyber bullying (by text message, on social networking sites and so on) and prejudice-based bullying (also in Computing)
- Racist, sexist, disability and homophobic and transphobic abuse and religious intolerance
- Radicalisation and extremist behaviour
- Child sexual exploitation
- Sexting
- Zero tolerance of a culture of 'Banter'
- Substance misuse (this is also covered in Science lessons)
- Issues that may be specific to local area or population, for example, gang activity and youth violence
- Child on child abuse
- Particular issues affecting children including domestic violence, sexual exploitation, female genital mutilation (FGM) and forced marriages. We have a duty to report concerns about pupils who we feel are at risk of harm or when we suspect that FGM has already been performed.

At Hadley Wood Primary School, pupils are explicitly taught how to report concerns and seek advice. While teaching children how to stay safe, including online, teachers should be clear that being a victim of abuse is never the fault of the child.

13. Prevent Duty

It is the school's duty to report and work with any child who may be exposed to radicalising influences. In our PHSE and Philosophy for Children lessons children will be encouraged to express their own views and if adults hear opinions that cause them concern these will be raised under the school's Child Protection and Policy and Procedures.

14. Confidentiality

Teachers conduct PSHE lessons, including relationships and sex education lessons in a sensitive manner. However, if a child makes a reference to being involved, or likely to be involved in sexual activity, then the teacher will take the matter seriously and deal with it as a matter of child protection. Teachers will respond in a similar way if a child indicates that they may have been a victim of abuse. In these circumstances, the teacher will talk to the child as a matter of urgency. If the teacher has concerns, they will draw these to the attention of the designated person responsible for child protection, or the Headteacher.

Legally, the school cannot offer or guarantee absolute confidentiality in line with the recommendations outlined in the KCSIE documentation. We aim to ensure that pupils' best interests are maintained and try to encourage pupils to talk to their parents or carers to provide support.

15. Working in Partnership with Parents/Carers

We recognise and value the interest, support and involvement of the parents in their children's PSHE Education and keep them up to date with any developments in this area. At Hadley Wood School we actively encourage parents to help their children in learning through discussions and educational visits where possible.

16. Monitoring and evaluation

This policy scheme of work will be regularly reviewed and any feedback from teachers, parents/carers and pupils will be considered. A sample of pupils' PSHE reflections from each class will be collected and progress checked. Alongside this, lesson observations and learning walks will be carried out at regular intervals to ensure we are offering high quality PSHE provision. Each class in the school has a PSHE floor book to record the range of activities and experiences of the class.

In PSHE there are two broad areas for assessment:

- Children's knowledge and understanding. For example, information on effective, respectful relationships both on and offline, physical and mental health, understanding of rules and safety procedures, and the meaning of ideas including democracy and British Values.
- How well children can use their knowledge and understanding in developing skills and attitudes, for example through participating in discussions, group tasks and activities, managing conflict, making decisions and promoting positive relationships.

A pupil's attainment and progress in PSHE may also be discussed at parent consultations where appropriate.

Children also receive certificates for demonstrating one of the Hadley Wood School Values. The Star Class award commends a class on demonstrating values in action and House points or Dojos are awarded within class and around the school for being good role models and demonstrating values in action.

17. Roles and Responsibilities

It is the responsibility of the Governing Body to:

- Approve the PSHE and RSE policy
- Hold the Headteacher to account for its implementation

It is the responsibility of the Headteacher to:

- Ensure that parents and staff are informed about our PSHE policy
- The policy is implemented effectively
- Ensure that members of staff are given sufficient training, so that they can teach effectively and handle any difficult issues with sensitivity
- Monitor this policy on a regular basis and reports to governors on the effectiveness of the policy

It is the responsibility of the PSHE lead to:

- Ensure that PSHE and RSE is taught consistently across the school
- Monitor assessment of PSHE and RSE
- Provide relevant and regular training to all staff

It is the responsibility of all staff to:

- Deliver PSHE and RSE in a sensitive way
- Model positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitor progress
- Respond to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the [non-statutory/non-science] components of PSHE and RSE
- Address concerns about teaching RSE with the Headteacher

This Policy should be read in conjunction with the following Policies:

- Equality Policy
- Inclusion Policy
- Child Protection Policy and Procedures
- Behaviour policy and procedures
- Anti-bullying policy and procedures
- Curriculum guidance documents: Science, PE, RE
